Kansas City Zoo Deramus Education Pavilion

Project Overview

This pavilion consists of two linked buildings, an IMAX theater building and a “Rite of Passage” building. The complex is designed to blend into its surroundings, and utilizes passive solar design with operable windows to facilitate natural cross ventilation.

Location:
Kansas City  Missouri  United States

Project Owner:
Kansas City Zoo

Submitting Architect:
Berkebile Nelson Immenschuh McDowell Architects

Source URL: http://www.aiatopten.org/node/310